

Find Locally Grown Strawberries Near You!

The strawberry is...

...one of the most popular berry fruits in the world. There are more than 10 species of strawberries that differ in flavor, size and texture yet they all have the same characteristic heart-shaped, red flesh and seeded coat together with small, regal, leafy green caps and stems that adorn their crowns.

Did you know...

...strawberries are not actually fruits as their seeds are on the outside. Strawberry plants are runners, and are not produced by seeds. They have an average of 200 seeds per fruit and are actually a member of the rose (rosaceae) family.

Where to find locally grown strawberries

June is strawberry season in Massachusetts and as such, it is a great time to purchase and/or pick-your-own local strawberries. To find a local strawberry producer near you, please visit: <https://massnrc.org/farmlocator/map.aspx>.

The availability may vary from year to year, depending on weather. It's always a good idea to call ahead to the farm you want to visit to check on picking conditions.
